PROPOSAL FOR AN OBSERVATION TOWER IN QUEEN ELIZABETH PARK

The Park Board is seeking public input on a proposal to put a privately developed observation tower in Queen Elizabeth Park.

Queen Elizabeth Park is the highest point in the city at 125 metres (410 feet) above sea level. Previously, the viewpoint offered unobstructed, 360 degree views. Many of these views have now become obscured by the park's maturing trees.

The proposal for the tower has been put forward by Henriquez Partners, on behalf of Observation Tower Inc. In the proposed design, three viewing decks (47, 52.5 and 56 metres from the ground or 154, 172 and 183 feet) would be accessed by elevator. From these, people would have unobstructed views in all directions. The proposal also includes a gift shop and snack bar at the ground level.
